Excerpt: .the Navy Department, maps, charts, and nautical books relating to and required in navigation, and to publish and furnish them to navigators at the cost of printing and paper, and to purchase the plates and copyrights of such existing maps, charts, navigators sailing directions and instructions as he may consider necessary, and when he may deem it expedient to do so, and under such regulations and instructions as he may prescribe. (Act Jan. 12, 1895.) We see that, under the above laws, it is the duty of the Hydrographic Office, under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, to provide charts, sailing directions, and other navigational publications for vessels of the Navy, and to place the same material on sale for the use of navigators generally, at the cost of printing and paper. CHARTS. You will see from that that we first manufacture charts and such things, and the Government pays the cost of production of the plates for the use of the Navy, for a military purpose. Then, as the same things happen incidentally to be useful for merchant ships. Congress has provided that we shall make some extra copies and sell them to merchant ships and navigators generally, at the cost of printing and paper only. Other legislation gives to the Coast and Geodetic Survey the responsibility for this work so far as it relates to United States territorial waters, leaving only foreign waters and the high seas under the jurisdiction of...
