Ts it not time to lift up the standard of the native born, and inscribe thereon in letters--of blood, if need be--Americans shall rule America, and ask all who love liberty, virtue, and honor: who love the God of our fathers, and the memory of their mothers, to rally round it and stand by it to the end Let us make this the home of an honest, manly, temperate, educated people, not an asylum for imbeciles; not a penal colony for old world criminals; not a place for the propagation of vice; not a land where immorality and irreligion shall be omnipotent, but one in which truth, justice, sobriety, cleanliness and thrift shall bear gentle and wholesome sway. The speaker at this point grew considerably calmer, his tone less violent, and his manner more agreeable. I would keep no one out; I should invite no one in; I should extend a hospitable hand to all who come bearing evidence of honesty and good intentions; but I should say the right to vote and hold office here belongs exclusively to those born on the soil. Like Moses and his followers, you may look into the political Canaan, if you will, but only your children shall be permitted to enter and possess. We put none but Americans on guard! The rain had by this time ceased, and Ebenezer, rising, announced that he had an important matter of business to attend to, which required his presence at Rudds...
