Eventually, I got some answers. I just didnt expect to get so many. When Juanita Lewis arrived in Paper Moon, Montana, courtesy of a Greyhound bus, she was just looking for a brief respite. Instead, she found a home, friends, and a man to love. But this leave-your-attitude-by-the-door woman made a promise to herselfone that she intends to keep. Now that shes got a place to come back to, Juanita wants to see the world. A trip out West with her eccentric trucker friend, Peaches, leads to a cooking stint at a new age spa for skinny celebrities. Crazy, but its here that Juanita decides to take her talent for cooking to a new level . . . and make it her dream. She also learns something about life: It does turn out the way you planned itjust be ready to change the plan a few times along the way. Just as Juanitas journey begins, shes called back to Paper Moon, having inherited an old, slightly haunted BB, as well as a mountain of decisions. Theres her self-centered, irresponsible daughter, insisting that she get some sense and come back home to Columbus, and a son whos doing things Juanita cant bear to think about. So how does a middle-aged black woman from the projects follow her heart when its heading in so many different directions? By asking the right questions, then listening with her soul.
